

The character and function of individual Medium Intensity/Special Districts is described in greater detail in Objective 8.

The form of buildings and development shall be regulated by the Form Based Code. Buildings shall have moderate build-to lines from the street and public right-of-way, as depicted in Figure C. Parking may occur on-street or in the moderate build-to-line of buildings, though rear and side yard parking is encouraged, as depicted in Figure D. Shade for pedestrians should be provided through landscaping or building design. Open space in Medium Intensity/Special District areas consists of large neighborhood and community parks.

The minimum density and intensity before any incentives in this future land use category is 5 dwelling units per gross acre or 0.15 FAR. The maximum density and intensity before any incentives is 30 dwelling units per acre or 4.0 FAR. The location and application of incentives shall be set forth in the Land Development Code.

Increased density and intensity incentives may be approved for inclusion of workforce housing, green building and sustainable design standards, setting aside right-of-way for trails, employment-generating uses, exemplary urban design, or other benefits to the City as specified in the Land Development Code. The location and application of incentives shall be set forth in the Land Development Code.

Policy 6.3: Low Intensity

The intent of the Low Intensity land use classification is to identify areas that are generally oriented towards the automobile as the primary mode of transportation, with pedestrian circulation and activity being generally less than High Intensity/Central Core and Medium Intensity/Special District districts. Low Intensity may contain a single use. Mixed use development is encouraged. Permitted uses include office, commercial, public, recreation, institutional, educational facilities and residential. Light industrial shall only be allowable in designated locations as specified in the Land Development Code and must meet the intent of
